You will train and stay in the mountains outside of Rio de Janeiro at the world's most majestic soccer complex – Granja Comary – where players like Ronaldinho, Kaka and Robinho train with the Brazilian National Team. This unique opportunity is available for international soccer players and allows them to experience the special atmosphere that has made Brasil the undisputed leader in world football.

You will work with the top coaches in Brasil from the best professional clubs throughout the country, as well as the Brazilian National Team Program. All coaches are bilingual, highly skilled and experienced.
